Description

Description: The sports hall, which was built in 1984, belongs to the Mühlacker vocational school and is located in the second row to Kerschensteinerstrasse. It is used for school sports purposes and various club sports. Between the street and the sports hall is the master's house, which was built at the same time in 1984. Next to the hall there is an associated outdoor sports area, which is currently used as a parking lot. There is a rain retention basin belonging to the city of Mühlacker beneath the outdoor sports area, which cannot be driven over with heavy loads. The remaining two sides are bordered by a commercial hall and the railway line. The main component of the sports hall renovation is, in particular, the replacement of the leaky hall roof (shed roof construction). A lightweight construction made of sustainable building materials must be taken into account for the new sports hall roof. The static investigation has shown that there are no reserves in terms of the applied loads and the structural design of the roof structure. The utilization and load approaches have been exhausted. Increases in load or additional loads may not be placed on the roof. Furthermore, the renovation of the flat roof for the technical extension and social wing, including the skylights, is planned. Further interventions in the building construction (e.g. external and internal wall cladding, hall floor) are necessary. The present engineering services involve structural planning in accordance with Sections 49 ff. HOAI 2021. The commission is carried out in stages, initially with service phases 1 to 3 HOAI. There is no legal right to further commission the subsequent service level; the client also reserves the right to have individual services within a service level provided itself or by third parties. An application for expression of interest in the federal program “Renovation of municipal sports facilities” was submitted. A decision on funding is still pending.
